MEMORANDUM FOR: [REDACTED] USAF

Subject: Recommended U.S. Policy Toward Soviet and Soviet Orbit Official Representatives on Duty in the U.S.

1. Having studied the latest revision on policy towards Soviet representatives, and without having seen the 4th paragraph of Air Force draft, 17 July 1950, I have the following comments:

a. In view of the known picayunish obstructionism inherent in the Communist mind, I would suggest that we prevent a flood of travel applications, filed solely to alert, needlessly, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, as well as to embarrass the agency concerned, by requiring official and immediate cancellation if the journey is not initiated.

b. We do not understand the second sentence in paragraph F. It applies only to the Defense Department representatives without restricting any other U.S. agency and yet the restriction emanates from IAC. The IAC should establish a general policy, from which the Defense Department can then coordinate the activities of the Military Services.

Reference DEPTEL 84, July 28.

There is no essential difference in Soviet procedure concerning travel for Embassy civil and military personnel. Approximately one third inhabitable part of U.S.S.R. is open for travel by embassy personnel. The rest is closed.

Those wishing to travel to any part of the open area must notify Foreign Office in advance, (War or Naval Ministry in case of military members). They then proceed to try to buy railroad or plane tickets through Soviet travel agency. If they succeed this means that Foreign Office has permitted the travel; if Foreign Office hasn't approved they won't get the tickets, the excuse generally being that tickets sold out. This procedure means that Foreign Office need give neither written nor oral permission before departure.

Travel by all means including auto is permitted without prior notification within radius 50 kilometers (30 miles) from Moscow except 10 forbidden raions covering two thirds of area. Auto travel to three specifically named historical points beyond 30 mile limit is permitted provided prior notification is given and travellers do not leave main roads.
